BOARD PREPARATION:

1. The Board will appoint an Ad Hoc Transition Committee to focus on the transition to a new CEO. This committee will consist of all members of the Finance, Policy & Personnel Committee, the current CEO and one staff member. This plan requires a considerable time commitment from the members of the Transition Committee. If any member is not prepared to commit his/her time, another Board Member will be appointed to the Committee instead.
2. The Transition Committee will review the Succession Plan and update it as necessary.
3. The Transition Committee will meet with the staff to discuss the transition and provide each member with a copy of the Succession Plan.
4. Funds will be identified for the transition, e.g. advertising costs, etc.
5. The Transition Committee will review and update the CEO's job description.

ADMINISTRATIVE PREPARATION:

1. The CEO will prepare and maintain an Operations Manual, detailing his/her duties in sufficient detail that the staff can continue to maintain those duties, if necessary, with a minimum of disruption to the efficient operation of the Library.
2. The CEO will train appropriate staff to perform those functions and he/she will indicate areas of responsibility in this regard within the Operations Manual. Special attention should be given to the processing of payroll and related documents/remittances and to the processing of accounts.
3. The Operations Manual will contain a list of contact names and telephone numbers for all suppliers, service companies, etc.
4. In the eventuality that the current CEO leaves before his/her replacement is hired, The Transition Committee will establish an interim staff structure detailing areas of responsibility and chain of command. An acting CEO may be appointed.
5. The Transition Committee will meet weekly to review the status of the CEO's work activities, any current issues, etc. Should personnel issues be discussed, the staff member will be excused from that portion of the meeting.

6. The Transition Committee will review and update the administrative calendar in order to ensure that all administrative functions are performed within the appropriate time frame. Special attention shall be given to any scheduled vacation periods for staff members.

8. The Transition Committee, with the exception of the staff member, will meet to review personnel files in order to determine if there are any current personnel issues or major pending actions and, if so, what action to take, if any.
9. If more than 8 months have elapsed since a staff member's most recent performance review, the CEO will evaluate that member according to regular practice.
10. The CEO will ask each staff member to prepare and maintain a "To Do List", detailing current major activities within the previous month, planned activities within the coming two months, and any major issues. Those lists will be used to coordinate work details during the transition and will be made available to the CEO's successor to make him/her aware of the current situation.

COORDINATION BETWEEN BOARD AND STAFF (in the event the CEO leaves before her replacement is hired):

1. Staff will be provided with names and phone numbers of at least two members of the Board who can be contacted if needed. Those Board Members will brief the entire Board on the nature of any emergency calls from staff.
2. The Transition Committee will conduct weekly meetings with all staff in order to provide direction regarding any issues that they have been unable to resolve independently and to assure them of the Board's commitment to its staff and to the orderly operation of the Library.
3. Designated staff members will prepare timesheets for payroll and related documents/remittances, and ensure that accounts are processed as usual. Two signing officers for the Board will sign the cheques after appropriate scrutiny. Care will be taken to avoid duplicate payments and to ensure that all remittances are made in a timely manner.
